For the first time on any stage, with the exception of three nights in Baltimore, "The Runaways," Messrs. Sam S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman's latest offering in the field of musical comedy, will be seen at the Columbia for the week beginning Monday, May 4. This is the piece intended to follow "A Chinese Honeymoon" at the Casino, in New York, where it is hoped that the new show will even eclipse the remarkable run of more than 400 perform-ances that the oriental opera achieved. The production has been made with a lavishness hitherto unknown on the American stage. and will include in its list of principals several of the best known names in their particular lines in this country. More than 60,000 will have been expended before the curtain rises on the opening night, and no possible opportunity to accentuate the merits of the new piece has been over-looked. No fewer than 160 people will appear upon the stage.

DRESSMAKER'S HEAVY LOSS. Garments Valued at $1,000 Destroyed

by Fire. A fire occurred this morning about 9 o'clock in the dressmaking establishment of Mrs. Rebecca Riggs, 723 18th street northwest. The blaze started in a large closet on the second floor and destroyed garments worth nearly $1,000. The closet was used for storing the finished work. It is said by the police that the fire originated from a match on the floor upon which some one stepped. So quickly did the flames spread that it was impossible to save the dresses and their destruction will cause disappointment to the persons for whom they were made. A local alarm called out No. 1 engine company and the firemen soon had the flames under control. The firemen managed to prevent much damage being done to the house. The police estimate the total damage at $1.500, but the owner of the property thinks that $1,000 will cover the loss. She carried no insurance on the goods.

No Vote Was Taken on Local Option There Yesterday.

The question of liquor or no liquor was not submitted to the voters at the Colonial Beach resort yesterday, Judge Beale of the Westmoreland county court having decided that under the amendment to the charter of the town, divorcing it from the remainder of the county and giving it separate jurisdiction, the order for a local option election did not apply within its limits. Unless the people of the town petition for a special election, the liquor question will not be voted on at the Beach this year. At a local option election held in Orange county, Va., yesterday three out of the four districts in the county voted against license, but the fourth district went wet by thirty-nine majority.

WORK AMONG INDIANS

SOCIAL AND BUSINESS SESSION OF AUXILIARY ASSOCIATION.

Address by Dr. Sheldon Jackson on Conditions in Alaska-Musical Festures.

The Washington Auxiliary of the National Indian Association held a combined social and business meeting yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the parlors of the First Congregational Church. One of the features of the program was an address on "Alaska," delivered by Dr. Sheldon Jackson, United States commissioner of education for the territory.

Preceding the rendering of the program he ladies composing the auxiliary spent an hour in exchange of social greetings, during which refreshments were served. The exercises were presided over by Mrs. M. E. C. Wilbur, president of the auxiliary, and was opened with a piano solo by Miss Neilie Herring. The reports of Mrs. A. W. corresponding secretary of the organization were respectively submitted. Both reports indicated that the auxiliary has been doing successful work in behalf of the Indians, and that the finances of the society are in good condition.

A number of members made brief addresses on current events affecting the American aborigines, following which Dr. Jackson was introduced by Mrs. Wilbur. In the beginning of his address the speaker referred briefly to his work a number of years ago as a Christian mis-sionary among the Indians and cliff dwellers in Arizona and New Mexico. He spoke in high terms of praise of the Navajo the New Jersey avenue yard on a car and tribe, and stated his opinion that there is a lack of continuous preaching of the gospel among the aborigines of the south-

> With regard to the natives of Alaska, Dr. Jackson stated he would tell the worst first. Among other things, he said: "The discovery of gold in Alaska means almost the entire destruction of the aboriginal system and race in that territory. In the last six years one-half of the entire native population in the section where-in gold has been discovered has passed away. The intemperance and immorality which have accompanied the advent of the whites to the section have been communicated to the original inhabitants, with the effect that they have become more susceptible to disease, and they have died like flies. "There is very little hope for the native race in Alaska, excepting for those who are under the direct influence of the Christian missionaries." He told of the inhuman practices that obtained among some of the native tribes of Alaska, such as a son killing his aged mother at her request, and the parents taking the lives of their infants, in order that there would be one less mouth to feed, and thus lessen the burden of their existence. In speaking of the more hopeful aspects of the situation, Dr. Jackson said that for the past four years in the fields where mis-sionaries have been at work there has been a notable revival of the Christian religion, and that the people showed a tendency to readily embrace Christianity and renounce their harbarous customs and religion their barbarous customs and religion. The country is in need of consecrated Christian teachers, he said, and he is hopeful of an increased number of missionaries being sent to the northern clime in the

The address by Dr. Jackson marked the close of the session. The Washington auxiliary of the National Indian Association was organized March 3, 1882, with the object of strengthening Christian public sentiment to aid the government in the abolition of all oppression of Indians within the limits of the United States, and to grant them the same protection of law vouchsafed to other races in the nation.
